Absent Councilmen Delay 'Phone Rate Protest

Quorum Fails To Show Up

Action Held Up For 3 Weeks

Action to fight the Mansfield Telephone company's requested rate increase was delayed for three weeks when only three of the nine members of city council showed up at a special meeting last night. The issue will be considered at council's Sept. 7 meeting.

It would have taken seven of council's nine members to pass an ordinance authorizing Service - Safety Director Earl T. Garrison to hire an accounting firm to study the telephone company application for a rate increase on behalf of the city.

"It was the most important piece of legislation this year," Nelson Swihart, chairman of council's utilities committee said. The meeting was called by Swihart.

Councilman Fred Miller said it was the first time in his 18 years in council that there weren't enough members to call a meeting to order. It takes five councilmen to call a meeting to order and act on legislation in which no money is involved.

Present, besides Miller and Swihart, were Harry M. Bowman, Council President Paul W. Bush, and Clerk Charles Stecker. Councilman Michael Mihalick said he would attend if his presence would make a quorum. However, he was notified it would be useless for him to come.

Swihart, Miller and Bowman are Democrats. So is Mihalick. Council President Bush is a Republican. There was no Republican councilman at the meeting.

CHECKED IN

Councilman Thomas Wright said he checked yesterday afternoon at the city building and at that time it appeared certain there wouldn't be enough members present to have a quorum. However, he said he came to the meeting, but was late, and it had adjourned.

Explaining their absence, Councilman Harry J. Hollingsworth said: "I just got back from my vacation late yesterday."

Clifford Knarr: "I was out of town last night. I told Swihart I would be unable to attend last Sunday."

George C. Kyle: "I was sick yesterday. I haven't been able to go to work today."

Charles N. Shultz: "It was a case of sickness."

Others who are usually present at council meetings, but were absent last night were City Solicitor C. J. Kalbfleisch, Mayor Roy W. Vaughn and Service-Safety Director Earl T. Garrison.

Office Plan Signers File

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Supporters of an election ballot to list candidates by office rather then political party last night filed petitions to put the question before Ohio's voters.

The petitions were filed with Secretary of State Charles F. Sweeney only 25 minutes before midnight — the deadline.

George H. Bender, Cuyahoga county Republican chairman and the leader of the group favoring the ballot change, said the petitions contained 443,091 signatures.

If 301,829 of the signatures are found to be those of registered voters, the question of the ballot change will be decided by Ohioans in the November election.

In accepting the petitions, Secretary Sweeney said:

"Just as soon as they are processed through this office and we find, on the face of them, there are more than the required number of signatures they will be sent to the boards of elections in the various counties to be checked."

The proposed ballot would group all candidates by office, with their political affiliations listed beside their names. An elector would have to mark an "X" before the names of each of the candidates for whom he wished to vote.

Girls Flock To Answer Proposal Ad

COLUMBUS —(INS)— Twenty-seven-year-old Adam M. P. Voelker, with a build like the second half of a muscles ad, had his date book filled to overflowing today as the result of a Columbus newspaper advertisement he placed Saturday, asking for a bride.

Voelker, an ex-GI from Cincinnati said things were fairly quiet over the weekend, then the deluge started.

He said he got an offer of help from a Columbus "companion club," but: "I told the guy I had enough names to go into the business myself, and he hung up."

Auto Theft, Ransacking Reported

Burglary Wave Continues In City

Mansfield's current burglary wave continued unabated last night as two entries and one auto theft were reported to police. In addition, one suspected entry and ransacking was later discounted.

The auto theft was that of a 1939 Chevrolet from the used car lot of the Willys Jeep firm, 294 East Third street. The keys to the auto were stolen from the sales offices of the firm, employes reported to police at 8 a. m. today.

There were no license plates on the car which has a light blue body with black fenders, police reported.

Boldness of the burglars came to light when the Wesley Doran home in Garden Acres was entered and ransacked while the owner and his wife were in the backyard. Doran told police he had left the front door unlocked while the family was in the rear of the house. The ransacking was reported at 10:05 p. m.

Police on a routine patrol discovered an open door at the Olan Mills studio, 144 Park avenue west at 4 a. m. today, with papers scattered about the office floor.

Mrs. Helen Moye, manager, told police she was certain she had left the door locked but that she had cleaned out the office files and left papers on the floor for the maid to discard.

Police today were also probing noises heard in an unoccupied apartment at the Gardner apartments, 114 Park avenue west. Although the tenants were on vacation, one resident reported hearing noises there yesterday.

Human Chain Fails, Six Are Drowned

INVERNESS, N. S. — (AP) — A desperate attempt by a 25-man human chain to save four persons from drowning in a treacherous undertow failed last night. Two of the rescue party are missing.

The human chain was formed of townsfolk and police summoned to the shore of this western Cape Breton mining town by the shrieking disaster signal of a colliery. The chain, organized by five police constables, came within a few feet of reaching the struggling swimmers, and then was burst apart by the pounding breakers.

The four known to have drowned were Malcolm Gillis, 17; Gerald MacNeil, 14; Simon White, 62, and his son, Melvin 27, all of Inverness.

The names of the two missing still were not known early today. They failed to make it back to shore when the human chain broke.

10 Seek Title Of Junior Miss

PITTSBURGH — (AP) — Ten 'teen age beauties will vie tonight for the title of Junior Miss America.

Eight others were eliminated last night in the semi-finals of the contest sponsored by West View park, which took over as a "moral responsibility" after the original promoter withdrew.

Among the ten still in the running are: Marilyn Reelhorn, 18, Columbus, O., and Joan Michie, 18, Wheeling, W. Va.

ROPE JUMPER—Carol Witt, 8, 607 Bowman street, skips over the rope in the rope-jumping event at the city playground track and field day at the old Senior High school stadium yesterday afternoon. Other contestants watch apprehensively as they await their turn.

TIED UP—The three-legged race is shown in full swing as the 8-9-year-old boys with their legs tied together race for honors during the city playground track and field meet at Stadium field. Approximately 250 children participated in the event.

Johns Park Wins Meet

Children Take Top Honors On Track

The children from Johns park won the annual city playground track and field meet at Stadium field yesterday by outscoring their nearest rival by 46 points.

Johns park garnered a total of 142 points in winning the meet. Second was Prospect park with 96 points, Maple lake was third with 61 points, and North Lake finished fourth with 56 points. Other teams and their scores included: Liberty park, 31, South Boulevards, 11, John Todd park, 9 and Woodland district, 3.

The Johns park team won the meet largely on the strength of points scored in the girls events. North Lake park led the Johns park team by five points at the end of the boys' events, but the Johns park girls tallied 91 points to give Johns an easy victory.

Prospect park finished second in the girls' division with 88 points and Maple Lake finished third with 39 points. North Lake topped the scoring in the boys' division with 56 points, Johns park was second with 51 points and Liberty park was third with 31.

The 250 contestants participated in four age brackets in both the boys' and girls' divisions. The age brackets were eight and

Dock Seizures Now Extended

HONOLULU — (AP) — Hawaii extended government seizure to all seven of the islands' struck stevedoring companies today. CIO Longshore Leader Harry Bridges said the territory's effort to reopen its strike-plugged ports will fail.

Gov. Ingram M. Stainback signed orders late yesterday to bring five firms in the outer islands under territorial control.

Largest Field In Decade

Nine Enter Torrid School Board Race

Nine candidates will battle it out for the three Mansfield Board of Education posts to be filled in November.

It will be the largest number of candidates in a school board race in Mansfield in more than a decade.

Two candidates, Carl L. Stough, 601 Grant street, and Harold J. George, 181 Bartley avenue, filed shortly before the 6:30 p. m. deadline yesterday. Seven others, previously had submitted their petitions.

The other candidates are Mrs. Howard Wenning, F. A. Berkey, Walton O. Leedy, Richard H. Wolford, R. Nelson Neff, Floyd F. Smith, and Kenneth H. Cadigan.

Only Leedy now is serving on the board. His post and those held by Board President Harold W. Arlin and Alvin H. Fankhauser will be vacant at the end of 1949. Arlin and Fankhauser did not seek re-election.

Stough has been employed by the Mansfield Asphalt Paving company for the past two and one half years. Previously, he was employed by the county highway department as an assistant superintendent for 14 years. Previously he worked at the Empire steel plant. Stough is a naval veteran of World War I. He is married and has two daughters and a son.

George is the proprietor of the Coney Island Sandwich company.

A member of several Masonic bodies, George received the 32nd Degree at the Dayton consistory. He also is a member of the Brinkerhoff and Johnny Appleseed Parent - Teacher associations and is a member of the P-TA council.

A former Mansfield city fireman, George worked for several years as a Boy Scout councilor. George also belongs to the Order of Ahepa, the Walton Lake club, Chamber of Commerce, and Phi Sigma Chi fraternity.

He is the father of a son and daughter, both of whom attend Appleseed Junior high school.

Town Drops Into Earth

QUITO, Ecuador — (AP) — Witnesses reported today one of the most fantastic pranks of Ecuador's disastrous earthquake—the little village of Libertad and its surrounding fields sank 1,500 feet straight down into the earth.

The town, with a population of about 100 persons, just disappeared. Where it once stood is a gaping hole half mile in diameter and 1,500 feet deep.

The strange tale was told by military and medical officers returning from the quake area south of here near Pelileo, hardest hit city where thousands died. They said they were shown the big sink by Col. Gabriel Nuneg. troop commander in the region.

Most of the top soil earth in the sunken area was scrambled by the sudden drop, but in a few places crops continued to grow just as they did before.

McGregor Improved, To Leave Hospital

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Rep. McGregor (R-Ohio) will be released from the Bethesda, Md., naval hospital in "two or three days" for convalescence from a recent ear operation, his office said today.

The congressman plans to go to his home in West Lafayette, Ohio to stay until he is able to resume work.

Two Church Posts To Be Vacated

Minister, Rabbi Submit Resignations

The resignations of a Mansfield pastor and a rabbi were announced today by members of their congregations.

Rabbi Moshe V. Goldblum, of B'nai Jacob temple, left yesterday for his new pastorate in Middletown, N. Y.

The resignation of Rev. C. A. Portz, pastor of St. Mark's Lutheran church, will become effective Sept. 1. Rev. Portz has not yet announced his plans after leaving his church here.

Rabbi Zelig Chinitz, of Far Rockaway, N. Y., will succeed Rabbi Goldblum as spiritual head of B'nai Jacob congregation. He is expected to arrive in Mansfield sometime after Aug. 15. Rabbi Chinitz is a graduate of Yeshiva univeristy New York City.

A member of St. Mark's congregation said a successor to Rev. Portz has not been appointed.

Rabbi Goldblum plans to attend Columbia university several days a week to work toward his doctorate while he is in New York.

He was installed as head of B'nai Jacob temple in December, 1947, his second ministerial post. B'nai Jacob was his first pulpit after leaving the service in which he served as a chaplain for 18 months. Before entering the army his post was in Columbus from 1944-45.

Rabbi Goldblum is a graduate of the University of Minnesota and the Jewish Theological seminary in New York City.

Rev. Portz has been pastor of St. Mark's since 1940, coming here from Wheeling, W. Va. He was graduated from Wittenberg college in 1913 and from Hamma Divinity school in 1916, receiving his degree from the latter school. His first pastorate was at Berlin Center where he served for three years.

Rev. Portz is a former president of the Mansfield Ministerial association.

Scattered Showers En Route

Tomorrow To Be Cooler

Although most of the country appears doomed to "grin and bear it" as the sun pours down, chances for some relief for the Mansfield area appeared today.

The weatherman, as usual confining himself to a cautious expression, predicted scattered showers for the state late tomorrow with the northern section being somewhat cooler.

Mansfielders, take heart! Just see what the rest of the nation is undergoing:

Boston reported 101, six degrees over the day's record set 51 years ago; New York had 98, a new high for the year, and Philadelphia had 97, tying the record set in 1900. It was expected to reach 98 in Philadelphia today. Hartford, Conn., had 100 degrees yesterday.

By comparison, the town of Blythe, Calif., on the American desert, reported a high of 100, one degree under Boston's maximum yesterday. Yuma, Ariz., another traditional hotspot, had 101.

The northeastern cities also were warmer than many of the cities in Dixie.

'COOL' IN SOUTH

While it was 94 in St. Louis, Atlanta had only 90. And while officials in Washington were tortured by 95 degree heat, Miamians enjoyed a high of only 87. When it was 94 in Detroit, it was just 92 at Nashville, Tenn., and Brownsville, Tex. At New Orleans, the high for yesterday was 93.

A cool air mass over the New England states and in New York may reach the northeastern corner of Ohio tomorrow or Saturday.

A few scattered showers are expected this afternoon over most of the state but will do little more than briefly dampen the ground, according to Forecaster A. S. Klemetsmo.

The weatherman pointed out that Ohio's temperatures have been 38 degrees above normal for August, despite a six-day cool spell at the beginning of the month. Yesterday's marks were 12 degrees over the normal readings.

UEW Officer Called Red

WASHINGTON — (INS) — An admitted former communist official told Congress today that James J. Matles, international organizer of the United Electrical Workers, was an active communist party member in New York.

The accusation was made before the House un - American Activities committee by Joseph Zack Kornfeder who has testified that before 1934 he once was a member of the communist party central committee, and helped direct communist infiltration of the U. S. labor movement.

Kornfeder told the House group that he has known Matles since 1925. Asked if he was familiar with communist activity on Matles' part, the witness replied:

"I am. I was a member of the district committee of the communist party in New York State. Maties was a member of the committee at the same time. He was also organizing secretary of that committee at that time."

Para-Vets Offer Aid To Red Cross

CLEVELAND — (UP) — The Para-vets, a new national organization of former paratroopers, has made arrangements to help the American Red Cross with disaster relief work, it was announced today.

Carlton L. Small, Red Cross disaster committee chairman, said a 16-man squad has volunteered to go anywhere in the United States where parachutists are needed. The squad includes a doctor, radio operators, first aid technicians, pilots and demolition experts.

Ford Union OK's Strike

Reuther Hopes For Settlement

DETROIT — (AP-UP) — Ford workers in Michigan voted overwhelmingly to strike if necessary to get pensions, health benefits and a wage increase.

Virtually complete return from a strike election supervised by the state showed today the CIO United Auto Workers won strike authority by a seven to one vote.

The State Labor mediation board announced the tabulation as follows: 60,585 yes; 8,710 no.

The board said 219 ballots were invalidated and 403 challenged. Still to be counted were about 1,800 ballots being brought by state police from the Iron Mountain plant.

The board held out about 4,000 ballots from other plants to be counted with the Iron Mountain vote. This was done because the board ruled the vote had to be counted on a state - wide basis without a breakdown by plants. Ford had asked a breakdown.

About 75,000 out of 80,000 eligible voters cast ballots in one of the biggest strike votes in industrial history.

Union leaders were jubilant over the result.

It did not mean, however, Ford workers would strike immediately.

House OK's Wage Bill

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The House passed today a bill to raise the national minimum wage from 40 cents an hour to 75, as asked by President Truman.

Probers Reveal Letters

Mundt Flays 'Pipeline' Deal

WASHINGTON — (UP) — A War Assets administration employe fed confidential information to "influence salesman" James V. Hunt in 1947 and advised him that "now is the time to strike a big future operation," it was disclosed today.

This advice was found in letters made public by the senate investigating committee. The letters taken from Hunt's files, were from Clarence W. Oehler, who was then a warehouse specialist for the WAA in the midwest.

Oehler told Hunt about being placed in charge of a big surplus automotive parts program and said:

"I have carte blance to sell them now on negotiated or bid or lot sales. This is confidential information." The last two words were underlined.

Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R., S. D., promptly denounced Oehler's actions as a "blatant invitation to bribery or connivance."

READ INTO RECORD

The letters, all written in 1947 and most of them on hotel stationery, were read into the record by Francis D. Flangan, a committee investigator.

They showed: 1. Oehler sent to Hunt sample match folders for the accused "five per center" and for "the White House." He referred to them as being of three kinds—"White House," "HHV" and "HST." President Truman's initials are HST and those of his military aide — Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan — are HHV.

2. The WAA employe indirectly asked Hunt for a job, in the course of supplying him inside information on surplus property programs and urging him to "set up deals."

3. Oehler wrote that "someone representing manufacturers and dealers can make a good deal procuring these (automotive) parts. I of course, am familiar with this program. . . It looks as though now is the time to strike a big future operation in both warehousing and care and handling of quartermaster operations."

4. Oehler asked Hunt to get him brought to Washington on "official" business. He wrote Hunt that "you can get a directive through our friends."

Oehler also wrote Hunt that "my friend Rufus Matthews, civilian chief of civilian employment" in the quartermaster corps, "leaked" information to him but, "fortunately, was never suspected."

Steel Chief Flays Board

NEW YORK — (UP) — The steel industry keynoted its case against labor's fourth-round demands today with a charge that President Truman has "repealed" collective bargaining and instituted "an industrila revolution in America."

The opening blast for the industry in its case before the President's steel fact - finding board was delivered by Clarence B. Randall, president of the Inland Steel company, of Chicago. He led off for 58 steel companies which have eight days to present their arguments.

Randall called the board proceedings "complete madness." He said the precedent established by acceding to board's recommendations "would commit us to boards and government wage-fixing forever." He termed the hearings a "political proceeding."

President Truman set up the board on July 16 to avert a nation - wide steel strike. The companies "reluctantly" agreed to participate in the hearings shortly before the strike deadline.

"No thoughtful person should be deceived by the naive suggestion that your findings are to be recommendations only," Randall told the three-man board. "The moment your announcement is made, every power of the government will be brought to bear to compel both sides to accept your conclusions."

No Stone, Brick or Mortar

Builders Bare 'Skyscraper of Future'

PITTSBURG — (AP — Skyscrapers of the future may be made without stone, brick or mortar.

Aluminum and stainless steel manufacturers have developed all-metal "curtain walls" which can be used in place of traditional building materials.

Curtain walls are only three to six inches thick, with a resulting saving in floor space. They consist of relatively thin-gauge metal, backed by insulation, and furrowed to prevent blinding light reflections and to increase wind strength.

Their use has been approved by underwriting laboratories and by many modernized building codes.

The new method already has been put to everyday use. The Aluminum Company of America, which first built a plant of aluminum at Davenport, Ia., now is constructing a 30-story skyscraper office building in Pittsburgh's golden triangle.

The $10,000,000 ALCOA office building on Sixth avenue will have exterior surfaces completely made of aluminum except for window panes.

Other pioneering in curtain wall construction has been done by the Allegheny-Ludlum Steel corporation which furnished stainless steel panels for a four-story office building at the big General Electric company plant in Schenectady, N. Y.

Three to six-inch thick curtain walls compare with masonry walls of from 18 to 40 inches thick. Allegheny-Ludlum and ALCOA officials say there is no need for the thicker walls in steel framework.

They say the exterior surface is needed principally to keep the elements out and the occupants in. The walls do not hold up the building or make it strong.

Steel and aluminum men often are asked about danger from lightning. Their answer is—there is no danger. Lightning frequently strikes tall buildings now but the steel framework carries the charge safely to the ground. Exactly the same thing happens in all-metal structure.

An architectural consultant for Allegheny-Ludlum contended thin walls permit a saving in space that amounts to as much as two-thirds of a square foot per lineal foot of exterior wall for every floor above street level.

He cited Rockefeller plaza in New York as an example, declaring that if its walls were as thin as curtain walls, a total of 112,490 square feet could have been saved. At $4 per square foot, the saved space could have been rented for $450,000 a year.

Allegheny-Ludlum officials said curtain wall construction compared favorably in cost with masonry, adding: "It's generally accepted that masonry costs about $3 per square foot. We don't think that stainless steel and insulation will cost any more."

U. S. Again Dips Into Bank Account of Income Tax Foe

MYSTIC, Conn. — (AP) — The federal government has dipped once again into the bank account of Miss Vivien Kellems. Implacable foe of the withholding provision of the income tax law.

The dip—to the tune of $6,133—announced by Miss Kellems herself.

It was made, she said, under the direction of John Fitzpatrick, internal revenue collector for the Connecticut district because she had not withheld the income taxes of employes of the Kellems Cable Grip company here.

She called the seizure a "penalty" and not a collection of unpaid taxes because, she said, "every penny in withholding taxes has been paid and the government admits it."

Her employes pay the tax themselves. She has withheld no taxes for more than a year, and says she won't unless the government pays her a salary as tax collector.

Furthermore, she said Monday, she will institute action to recover the $6,133.

Her method of recovering some $1,600 which the government seized in the same manner over a year ago was to deduct that amount from her personal income tax return last March.

Miss Kellems, who contends the withholding tax law in unconstitutional, on several occasions has invited Treasury Secretary Snyder to indict her so the law might be tested. The invitation has not been accepted.

UNDERMOUNTED
CORN HARVESTER
KEEPS GOING IN SOFT FIELDS

When fall rains make the ground soft or sticky, there are two main reasons why the A-C Corn Harvester keeps going:

1. It's Undermounted with three-fourths of the weight carried on the tractor drive wheels—suspended from the rear tractor axle.

2. It's a lighter, simpler machine. A-C engineers have eliminated unnecessary drive chains, sprockets, gears and gadgets. You don't need a two-ton machine to pick an ear of corn weighing less than a pound.

Stop in before corn husking time and talk to us.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

The awards were for property needed for the new section of State Route 13 around Mansfield airport. Commissioners had filed an action in common pleas court to appropriate properly and set up sums to compensate the owners.

Taft Claims Move Afoot to Bypass Him on New Labor Probe

Promises To Battle Dem Action

Committee OK's Funds For Inquiry

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senator Taft (R-Ohio) accused the Democrats today of trying to bypass him in a proposed new investigation of labor-management relations.

Taft told a reporter he thinks there is a definite move afoot among Democratic members of the labor committee to leave him and other supporters of the Taft-Hartley act out of a proposed new inquiry group.

"If they try it — and they have given every sign they will — I'm going to fight it in the Senate," the Ohioan said.

He said he and Senators Donnel (R-Mo) and Smith (R-NJ), who developed the bill which the Senate passed as a substitute for the administration's Taft-Hartley repealer, weren't invited to join in sponsoring an investigation resolution now ready for Senate action.

The resolution, setting up a $25,000 fund for an inquiry into labor-management relations—including the operation of the Taft-Hartley act — won approval yesterday of the Senate rules committee. It previously had been approved by the labor committee over Taft's protests.

Senator Murray (D-Mont), a vigorous opponent of the Taft-Hartley act, is expected to head the labor subcommittee. It would hold hearings and report to Congress by next January 15.

Two Republicans who didn't go along with Taft — Senators Aiken of Vermont and Morse of Oregon, joined eight Democrats in sponsoring the resolution. Aiken and Morse voted against the Taft bill when it passed the Senate June 30.

If the memberships of the investigation committee were drawn solely from among its sponsors, as sometimes happens, Taft said he had little doubt that the group would turn up early next year with a report vigorously condemning the Taft-Hartley act.

"It looks like they are getting ready for the 1950 campaign," Taft commented.

Here's another big reason why

THERE IS NO FINER CIGARETTE IN THE WORLD TODAY THAN LUCKY STRIKE

America's finest cigarette laboratory assures you that—

1. Lucky Strike always means fine tobacco!
2. Lucky Strike is always a finer cigarette!

YOU SEE HERE the largest and most complete laboratory of its kind operated by any cigarette manufacturer in America.

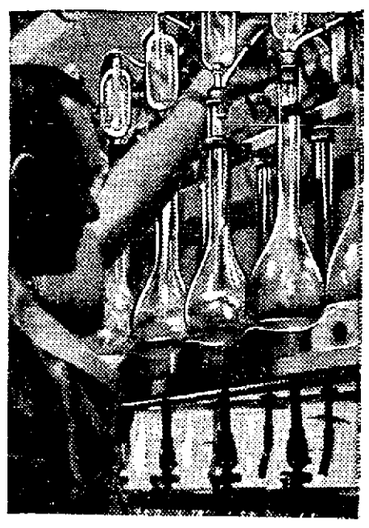
For many years Lucky Strike scientists have delved into cigarette research on an extensive scale. Out of this has grown an elaborate system of quality control. Every step in the making of Luckies—from before the tobacco is bought until the finished cigarette reaches you—comes under the laboratory's watchful eye.

As you read this, a constant stream of tobacco . . . samples from every tobacco-growing area . . . is flowing into the laboratory in Richmond, Virginia. These samples are scientifically analyzed, and reports of their quality go to the men who buy at auction for the makers of Lucky Strike.

Armed with this confidential, scientific information—and their own sound judgment—these men go after finer tobacco. This fine tobacco—together with scientifically controlled manufacturing methods—is your assurance that there is no finer cigarette in the world today than Lucky Strike!

Everything's under control! Lucky Strike scientists supervise intricate tests daily to guarantee that the weight, size, density and firmness of your Lucky Strike are always right. Such details are rigidly controlled to guarantee you a truly finer cigarette.

Luckies stays fresh. After Lucky Strike cigarettes have been made and then packaged, they must be tightly sealed to remain fresh. Here you see the cellophane seal being tested for air-tightness. Such instruments are in use at every plant.



Testing tobacco. Samples from every tobacco-growing area are analyzed before and after purchase. These extensive scientific analyses, along with the expert judgment of Lucky Strike buyers, assure you that the tobacco in Luckies is fine.

Higher Taxes Wanted By Spenders

EVEN THOSE who are most insistent on further increases in expenditures by the federal government must sometimes wonder how long American taxpayers can bear up under the burden being placed upon them—with national income still insufficient to cover present and prospective outgo in meeting demands at home and abroad.

The census bureau reveals that the American tax bill—federal, state and local—during the year ended June 30, was 54½ billion dollars, which means about $372 for each individual in the United States, including children—even the youngest babies.

Such extravagant spending has no precedent in all history and it is pointed out by Senator Byrd that the average American worker is paying out in taxes $1 for every $4.10 he earns—practically one-fourth.

It is also noted that of the $372 average total, the federal government takes $274, leaving only $53 per capita for the states and $45 for local governments.

But still, according to President Truman and his advisors, taxes are not high enough, and there has been a renewal of deficit spending—with more and more expenditures being authorized, and more and more asked for.

How fortunate the British must now regard themselves for having lost the Revolutionary war—think what a desperate plight they would be in if their socialistic experimentation had taken in the United States of America, upon which they are leaning so heavily.

Appeal For More Blood Donors

LACK OF UNDERSTANDING, rather than absence of sympathetic interest, is the probable explanation of Mansfield's poor showing in the Red Cross blood donor service, as a high percentage of the people of this community are accustomed to respond readily to calls for help in efforts to save lives.

During war-time it was easy to impress people with the need for donations of blood to be used in saving the lives of wounded soldiers, but it is more difficult to visualize these needs in peace-time, except by those who are brought into direct contact with emergencies in which availability of blood may mean the difference between life and death.

Announcement that the response of voluntary blood donors in Richland county has been insufficient to justify continuance of visits of the Red Cross Bloodmobile to this county, creates an emergency which justifies the prompt organization action to strengthen the appeal for more donors.

Same Old Story Pops Up Again

HERE IT IS AGAIN. This time it is a trusted bank teller in Oak Park, a suburb of Chicago, who admits taking $40,000 of bank funds "to bet on the horses."

He is 38 years old and had been with the bank 20 years. He is married and has two young daughters. His salary was $275 a month, on which the family lived modestly. But while he was on vacation last week the shortage was discovered and arrest followed.

"I got mixed up in gambling", he is quoted as saying—and police immediately got busy trying to locate the bookies with which the losing bets were placed.

Gambling has such fascination for many people, and so much viciousness is associated with operation of commercialized gambling, that laws against it have been regarded as proper protective measures.

The fact that some law enforcement officials—as in Mansfield—choose to ignore anti-gambling laws should not be construed as public sanction of that evasion of duty . . . nor can the example thus provided be considered helpful in combatting juvenile delinquency in this community.

Stamp To Commemorate G. A. R.

ONE commemorative postage stamp being made ready for issuance soon is assured general approval in northern states, although it may be deemed advisable to withhold it from the Deep South.

As announced by Postmaster General Donaldson, the forthcoming 3-cent stamp is to commemorate the final national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, and the first-day sale will be in Indianapolis August 29.

Those old enough to remember the fine showing made by Civil war veterans in Memorial day parades of earlier years, and who have been saddened by the steadily dwindling ranks until now only a few remain in the entire country, will appreciate the opportunity to use and to pass on to future generations some of these commemorative stamps, which will picture an aged G. A. R. veteran, and also show him as he appeared in youth as a Union soldier.

Ethiopia's Future Brightens

NEW RAILROADS and oil wells are said to be the keys to the future prosperity of Ethiopia. Among the allies in the recent war, Ethiopia has strongest ties with France and the United States.

An American oil company is spending millions of dollars in an effort to locate the same oil-bearing strata which supply productive wells in Saudi Arabia, Iraq and Iran. Much oil is needed for private transportation in Ethiopia, over roads built during the Italian occupation. French and American interests are expected to work together in developing three hundred miles of railroad.

A productive and prosperous future for Ethiopia is one angle of the movement to develop African resources so that the immense possibilities there may be realized. Not only Africa will profit, but the world as a whole.

The Berlin correspondent of a London newspaper gains the impression that American women are "brazen, vulgar and stupid"—indicating careful observation in the cocktail lounges.

What Some Other People Are Saying

Philippine President ELPIDIO QUIRINO: "Asia with its vast population which accounts for more than half that of the world and with its incalculable resources, cannot and ought not to be lost to communism by default."

Better Look Behind You, Uncle

Raymond Moley's Analysis

Neglect of Hoover Was Fatal Strategy

A FEW friends of Herbert Hoover, as well as many of his critics, will disagree with a view that this observer has formed after a good deal of consideration of Hoover's neglect by this generation.

But since I had a good opportunity to know the strategy of Democratic leaders in the early days of the Roosevelt era, it may be worth while to set down that view as Hoover received well deserved plaudits on his 75th birthday.

Roosevelt always had a much more serious opinion of the danger to him of a Hoover come-back than he would publicly admit. I have the evidence that Roosevelt made a bet with me before the 1936 campaign that Hoover would be renominated by his party.

His reason for that belief was that no other Republican was morally and intellectually equipped to provide strong opposition to the New Deal. Roosevelt had an unexampled opportunity to know, because he had known of Hoover and his works at first hand in the Wilson days.

Hence Roosevelt and the Democratic propaganda brigade concentrated on the indoctrination of the new generation in Hoover's career as president and carefully avoided mention of Hoover's early and brilliant years.

This job was so well done that a new generation of voters grew up with few notions about Hoover except the unfair and untrue impression that he was the architect of the depression.

* * *

Neglected By Party.

THE REAL gist of the Democratic appeal in four presidential campaigns has been the wonderful recovery of the country after the defeat of Hoover.

The Democratic party has been running against Hoover for 20 years. Under such circumstances, it is easy to see why Roosevelt never availed himself of Hoover's invaluable capacity to serve the nation, even in war years when many of the problems reappeared which Hoover had solved so well in the earlier war.

It was not mere jealousy or vindictiveness that restrained Roosevelt. It was a prudential measure to avoid building up a rival.

The Democrats succeeded so well in this campaign of tarnishing the Hoover record that the infection spread to Republican leaders and candidates.

Willkie and Dewey by studied effort sought to shroud the Hoover achievements and to create the impression that the Republican party they were leading had its origins some time after 1933. This was futile, of course. The Democrats were thus free to attack the Republican past, which was left starkly undefended.

Meanwhile, in convention after convention, Hoover gave to his party the moving expression of a real party philosophy. Compare if you will those Hoover speeches with the vague expressions of Willkie and Dewey.

Finally, after defeat after defeat, Hoover is still the outstanding opponent of the Roosevelt-Truman welfare state.

Viewing the National Scene

Just What Is 'Statism'?

By THOMAS L. STOKES

WASHINGTON—That was probably a very smart crack of Rep. Hugh Scott (Pa.) about Harry Truman being "Typhoid Harry" which was made before the assembled ladies and gentlemen of the Republican national committee here last week, even if in the questionable taste about the President of the United States.

The President chose to ignore it. He could have replied that he very likely did carry Typhoid — (is it in Iowa or California or Illinois or where?) — and he also carried lots of other places last November.

Rep. Scott should know that, himself, since he was director of the losing campaign as chairman of the Republican national committee. He made the wise crack about "Typhoid Harry" in his farewell speech when he retired as chairman.

What Harry is carrying, according to ex-chairman Scott, is the "malignant germs" or "statism," and, said Mr. Scott, with pitying condescension, poor Harry is just as innocent as was "Typhoid Mary." He really doesn't know, as "Typhoid Mary" didn't know.

"Statism" — that is the newest slogan devised to confound the President and his program. You hear it repeatedly, on every side, from his opponents; not only from Republicans but from the southern wing of his own party.

For Jimmy Byrnes of South Carolina, formerly a shining light in the Roosevelt and Truman administrations, came out with it weeks ago, long before Mr. Scott. It signifies the party line of the Republican-southern Democratic coalition. As a matter of fact, Mr. Scott in his farewell address again praised those "patrotic Democrats" who are helping Republicans fight the President.

* * *

Not New Proposals.

"STATISM" — let's analyze it. It must, of course, refer to the Truman Social Welfare Program. What is in that?

Housing, federal aid to education, social security expansion, increase in the minimum wage, a federal health insurance system.

Are those, then, some strange and new devices? No, all of them have been pending in Congress for years. Congress, itself, went "statist" the other day, in Rep. Scott's lexicon, when it finally passed the housing bill. The principle of that was established a dozen years ago by Congress in the 1937 housing act.

The principle of a statutory minimum wage for industries and businesses operating in interstate commerce was established in the 1938 wage-hour act.

The pending bill, which Congress is expected to pass in the next few weeks and thus go "statist" a second time, merely proposes to increase the statutory minimum form 40 cents to 75 cents an hour to meet changing conditions.

The social security act was enacted 14 years ago in 1935. The pending bill, which is expected to go through next session, increases the coverage to many not included in old age protection under the original act.

The federal aid to education bill has passed the Senate three times and, as we know, is tied up now in the House on a religious issue. The health insurance program, the most controversial, is not new. Bills for it have been pending for a long time.

When Rep. Scott and Republicans of this stripe shout "statism", they never specify just what they mean. Why?

That's very simple. They are referring to the measures listed above, but they don't say so because some of them were endorsed in principle by their own party platforms of 1944 and 1948 and by their presidential candidates since 1940 — Wendell Willkie and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey. Many Republicans in Congress are for most of them.

Senator Taft of Ohio, the outstanding Republican in Congress, personally sponsored the housing and education bills. He also is sponsoring a medical program providing for federal aid to the states for health improvement along with several other Republicans.

Looking Back

Twenty Years Ago Today

Sunday, August 11, 1929

Fire in Lexington did estimated damage of $35,000 and Shelby fire caused loss estimated at $50,000.

Mansfield hotels reported record business for this season of year, due to unusual number of tourists.

C. L. Davis, county attendance officer, was vacationing in Michigan.

Many unusually fine dahlia gardens were seen in this vicinity by motorists.

Mrs. T. C. Lantz and daughters, Marjorie and Marian, former residents, returned from California for a visit.

Epley family reunion was held at North Lake park.

Work on new building of Mutual Plate Glass Insurance company in Shelby was nearing completion.

Miss Mildred Angle returned from Cincinnati where she was bridesmaid at the wedding of a college classmate.

TODAY IN HISTORY

John Henry Cardinal Newman, theologian and author, primate of England, died Aug. 11, 1890.

As Cerf Tells It

When John Nance Garner was vice-president, the late Huey Long once questioned him on a matter of Senate procedure. "I'm half for the bill we're discussing and half against it," confessed Long. "What do you think I ought to do?" "Saw yourself in half," suggested Garner. "That's what I think you ought to do anyhow."

Dave Boone Says:

NEW JERSEY thinks the hot summer is due to the Gulf Stream switching its course closer to the seaboard. Experts say it hasn't moved an inch. Well, let's not get any hotter arguing over whether that's what makes it hotter.

* * *

Once you start blaming the Gulf Stream for things that have happened this summer there's no telling where it will end. It could even be blamed for the long communist trial, the Chambers-Hiss dispute, those matches with "Stolen From Harry Truman" on 'em, and even the white paper blaming everything on China.

* * *

A smart New Yorker is a fellow who knows each day what the bus fares are on all lines. Another line has just upped its fares another cent. The old adage now seems to be "Take care of the pennies and the right change for a ride will take care of itself."

* * *

I see where the chairman of the Federal Reserve Board wants Congress to see why the public ain't in the stock market. Congress can answer that by just looking in a mirror.

Fulton Objects To 'Gobbledegook' Talk

By ROBERT S. ALLEN

Editor's Note: Now that his wife has induced Drew Pearson to take a vacation, his old team-mate and co-author of the Washington Merry-Go - Round, Robert S. Allen, will substitute for a couple of weeks, this being the first of his columns.

* * *

WASHINGTON — Maj. Gen. Lyman D. Lemnitzer encountered rough going in his closed-door testimony before the House foreign affairs committee on the $1,450,000,000 European arms bill.

The working-over was administered by Rep. James G. Fulton, R., Pittsburgh, a plain-talking Navy veteran.

Lemnitzer is one of the principal authors of the giant armament measure. A 50-year-old West Pointer, he is deputy commandant of the national war college and chairman of the foreign assistance coordinating committee. In this latter position, he has played an important behind-the-scenes role in foreign policy.

Lemnitzer appeared before the committee flanked by a score of senior Army officers. They were so numerous they filled all the front seats. As a result, the ECA and state department delegations had to remain in the rear. These delegations were headed by two top experts, Dr. Lloyd V. Berkner and Edward T. Dickinson, but Lemnitzer did most of the talking.

He got off to a bad start by addressing the committee as though it were a staff conference he was briefing. Heavily interlarding his comments with military terminology, he talked at length about logistics, tables of organization and equipment and other technical matters.

"Just a moment," finally broke in Fulton. "Before you go any further, let's cut out all the gobbledegook."

Lemnitzer came to an abrupt halt. Fulton pointed out that Lemnitzer was addressing the foreign affairs committee, not the armed services committee.

"What we want to know," he said, "is how this arms program was worked out. How did you arrive at this $1,450,000,000 figure?"

Lemnitzer replied that an arbitrary price was fixed for the cost of weapons to be sent to Europe. These arbitrary figures have no direct relation to the original cost of the weapons.

"Are all the weapons to be from our surplus supplies" asked Fulton.

Lemnitzer admitted they would not. Also, that Army needs would require replacement of surpluses sent to Europe. Further, that as a result of this replacement, the actual cost of the European program would be $1,850,000,000.

Lemnitzer also disclosed, under questioning, that Army Intelligence had greatly underestimated Russian military strength two years ago, and considerable doubt exists as to the currency and accuracy of present information.

He sidestepped direct criticism of army intelligence, but the import of his remarks was unfavorable.

"There is a great deal of feeling in the country and in Congress," observed Fulton, "that the military are shaping our foreign policy. If that is true, it is not a sound situation."

Note: Before testifying, Lemnitzer submitted his lengthy prepared discourse to William Frye, defense department press director, "for suggestions."

Pointed Brush-Off.

LAST MONTH, Rep. James Van Zandt, R., Pa., telephoned retired Air General "Tooey" Spaatz and invited him to participate in the centennial celebration of Altoona, Pa., Van Zandt's home town. Spaatz, also a Pennsylvanian, promised to try to come.

Several weeks later, Van Zandt, Navy reserve captain, blasted Air Secretary Stuart Symington and demanded a probe of B-36 procurement. The attack led to the House investigation now in progress.

Last week, Van Zandt wrote Spaatz reminding him of the Altoona invitation. Spaatz, who had a big hand in the development and purchase of the B-36, sent the following reply:

"I note the Altoona function is on August 8. I am now a reporter and have to be in Washington to cover the B-36 investigation, beginning August 9, for a news magazine. I deeply regret the circumstances, of which you are very well acquainted, that make it impossible for me to accept your invitation."

Madame Still Active.

MADAME Chiang Kai - Shek dropped out of sight last spring following the failure of her mission to persuade President Truman to extend more large-scale U. S. aid to her husband's tottering regime. But she is still in the U. S., and still at work.

Madame Chiang has an estate near Warrenton, Va.; a mansion in Washington and a large apartment in New York. While keeping in the background, she carries on a large correspondence urging U. S. arms and money for the Chinese nationalists.

Answer Quickly, Please

By INEZ ROBB

NEW YORK — American preoccupation with correct manners and good form(as distinguished from "swell shape") is rivalled only by Buddha's concentration on his embonpoint.

Ever since the late Charles Dickens and Mrs. Trollope threw the cut plug and cuspidor at us some generations ago because of our frontier manners, we Americans have done our best to saucer and blow our coffee quietly and to lift the pinkie when inhaling tea.

Emily Post has been a best seller ever since I can remember, and more constantly consulted than the Bible, the encyclopedia, and the almanac combined.

We have now progressed to a point where a magazine, Omnibook, believes we should be able to separate the true from the false in 100 flat statements it publishes under the title "What Is Your Social I. Q.?"

For instance, Omnibook wants to know, from you and me, wether it is true or false that "'What are you doing tonight?' Is bad taste when phoning for a date?"

Even a square from Montclair can spot the error in this one. The correct thing in our neighborhood is "What are you doing tonight, Kid?"

It is little niceties like this that mark one to the manner born.

"One should congratulate a woman on her engagement." True or false? What do you think, friends, in a period when, for the first time in our history, the feminine population of the nation exceeds the masculine?

* * *

Let's Not Quibble.

LET'S BE practical. First congratulate her and then find out how she did it. That's my advice. This is no time to stand on ceremony.

"A fur coat is an appropriate gift from a man to his fiancee on the occasion of their engagement." True or false?

First off, I want to know what kind of fur it is. If the answer is "mink", just find out if there are any more at home like him! There's no point in making hasty, technical judgment in matters like this.

"Blue point cocktails should be eaten with a spoon." True or false? I think that depends on what part of the country you come from. In some sections, if you can't drink it, it ain't a cocktail. Texas, that is.

In other parts, if you can get a blue point out of a shell with an ordinary spoon, it's regarded as the neatest trick of the week.

"When one is invited for the week-end, a personal gift for the hostess, such as a piece of jewelry, is most acceptable." True or False?

I look at the problem like this: If some lucky stiff has had such a fine time at Wild Oat farm over the week-end that he feel's he can only repay me with a diamond wrist watch or a ruby necklace, why, who am I to argue? After all, in the final analysis, i'm the one who's stood over the hot electric dish washer all week-end!

Small return on the investment, if you ask me. And, may I ask, whose business is it anyway? Just keep away from my jewel box, Omnibook.

"In a pullman car, a woman may dress either in her own berth or in the dressing room." True or false?

Any woman is a fool to try it in her berth unless she's double jointed.

"When registering at a hotel, it is proper to sign 'Mr. John Doe and Wife'." True or false?

'Dear me! And in a family journal!

"A man sitting next a strange woman in a theatre should assist when she wishes to take off her coat." True or false?

Frankly Speaking

Getting Busy On China

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — This government today digs in to finding what to do in a grand mess.

The mess is the Far East, where the Chinese communists are taking over China.

This has been a great disaster for the United States since, between them, the Russian and Chinese communists now control most of Asia.

Only last week the state department issued a "white paper" which said:

1. This country has washed its hands of Chiang Kai-Shek's nationalists who were the only opposition the communists had.

2. Since the nationalists are no competition any more, the Chinese communists can take over all China any time they wish.

Today an aged man, 73-year-old J. Leighton Stuart, flies into Washington with his head full of knowledge of China to give what advice he can.

He's American ambassado: to China. Although he's had the job only since 1946, he's lived in China 45 years, mostly as an educator. He's an expert on China and its problems.

Secretary of State Acheson has created a special group to figure out what this country should do about the Far East, which includes China and the rest of Asia not in communist hands.

This group is made up of three men: Philip C. Jessup, an ambassador-at-large; Dr. Everett Case, president of Colgate university; and Raymond B. Fosdick, president of the Rockfeller Foundation.

Case, now in Europe, will arrive here next week. Fosdick arrived here Tuesday. And he, Jessup and Stuart will start putting their heads together.

* * *

Complicated Situation.

THIS GROUP, or board, will have the assistance of the state treasury and national defense departments, the Economic Cooperation Administration, the Senate foreign relations committee and the House foreign affairs committee.

The problem of the United States is this:

With all China in the hands of the Chinese communists, and with those communists working with the Russian communists, then—

Vitally strategic areas now controlled by, or tied in with, the United States are in easy bombing range of the communist-run, eastern coast of Asia. They are Japan, Okinawa, and the Philippines.

Then there is the island of Formosa, off the China coast. This once belonged to China. The Japanese captured it. After World War II the allies decided to give it back to China.

This hasn't been all sealed and settled yet and isn't supposed to be until the Japanese peace treaty is signed.

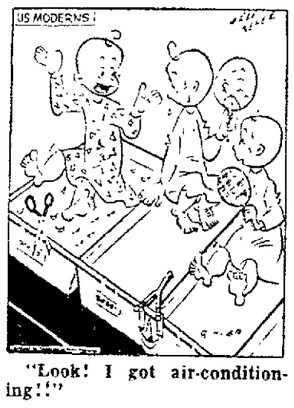
Meanwhile, Chiang Kai-Shek, whom the state department doesn't think is worth helping, has made his headquarters on Formosa.

He's reported to have withdrawn 300,000 of his troops from the China mainland to Formosa, and has most of his airforce there.

Formosa—in any trouble which might later arise with communist China—could be of help to this country. What to do about that?

That's another problem for the special board to consider, in addition to deciding what this country ought to do to stop the spread of communism through the rest of Asia.

LIFE'S LIKE THAT



"Look! I got air-conditioning!"

Words of the Wise

No one can save himself without God's help, and God will help each man who performs his own part.—Mary Baker Eddy.

The voice of humility is God's music, and the silence of humility is God's rhetoric. Humility enforces where neither virtue nor strength, nor reason can prevail.—Francis Quarles.

One Man's Opinion

—By WALTER KIERNAN

CHIANG has only a few weeks to mend his fences here . . . Next month we will be occupied with the Miss America contest.

* * *

In March, 1948, we wrote "The feeling is Chiang's hand needs strengthening. He might try exercising it . . . Standing with the palm out for so many years may have weakened it."

* * *

It took the state department 17 months to put that in 1,054 pages and call it a white paper.

* * *

Everyone would like to help the Chinese people, but it's difficult . . . they're still in the hands of their friends.

MRS. H. C. HOLLOWAY

Reinoehl-Holloway Nuptial Vows Read In Tiffin Church

Ruth Jackson Reinoehl, 24 Wolfe avenue, became the bride of Hubert Chester Holloway August 3 in St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church in Tiffin, Ohio. The Rev. Harvey J. Zuern officiated for the nuptial vows which were spoken before an altar decorated with candelabra and ferns.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Lola M. Jackson and the late W. G. Jackson, 725 35th street, Manhattan Beach, California, and Mr. Holloway is the son of Mrs. Hattie Holloway and the late Chester Holloway, 65 State street.

A pale blue crepe street length dress with inserted embroidered marquisette was chosen by the bride for her wedding. The long sleeves came to points over the hands. A half hat of blue crepe with a bow of embroidered marquisette completed her ensemble. The bride had a white orchid corasage.

Mrs. John V. Jackson, sister-in-law of the bride, served as her only attendant. She was attired in a navy blue taffeta trimmed with white. With this she wore a white hat. Mrs. Jackson had a pink rosebud corsage.

John V. Jackson, brother of the bride, served as best man.

Extreme Jealousy Is Mental Ailment

Extreme jealousy in marriage is a form of mental derangement says an emminent marriage counselor, Dr. David R. Mace.

"The man who without cause declares that he is not sure of his wife," writes Dr. Mace "is really not sure of himself."

Deep down inside the jealous husband is fighting a buried conviction that he is not good enough for his spouse. Because he won't consciously admit this sinking sense of inferiority, he pushes it out of sight.

The result is that it emerges in a disguised form—jealousy. However, the article continues, jealousy is not always bad. It is based on a reasonable and proper emotion, and trouble begins only when the green-eyed dragon gets out of hand.

FALSE TEETH
That Loosen
Need Not Embarrass
Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

TIFFIN MAN LOSES 40 LBS. WITH RENNEL
"I cannot say enough for what Rennel has done for me," writes Mr. D. S. Ladd, Box 805, Tiffin, Ohio. "I am 67 years of age. Since taking Rennel I have lost 40 lbs. and feel so much better."
It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Rennel Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.
If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears, how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

Dorothy Kilgallen

Voice of Broadway

(Dorothy Kilgallen is on vacation. Her guest columnist today is the brilliant young screen actress, Jane Wyman.)

HANDS ACROSS THE SEA

I have been in England now for nearly two months, and I think I can now make a stab at reporting on how this country differs from our own. The big difference between the two nations — and I'm not trying to be a philosopher about it — is that they are so nearly the same.

It's the word nearly that's so important. If England and the United States had different languages, any American visitor to Britain would understand and accept the difference. He would know that he'd just have to learn a new language or go through his visit with an interpreter. But the British language and the American language are nearly the same, and it's that same difference that can cause the trouble.

• • •

You get off the Queen Mary at Southampton, and you hear familiar words from the people and you find you can read the signs, and you're sure all this is going to be no different than getting your ear attuned to the accent of, let's say, South Carolina or North Dakota or New York in the East Sixties.

But that turns out to be just a bad guess. You find you nearly understand what people are saying. Recognizing every third word, you discover, just isn't enough. And then the really big shock comes—it begins to dawn on you that they don't understand what you're talking about either.

So you realize that you're not in E. 62nd st., or in North Dakota or in South Carolina, and you begin to speak more slowly, to enunciate more clearly, and maybe you use your hands in a gesture or two. After a little while everything is all right; there is pretty complete understanding, and you find that you not only are getting very fond of English people, but that they like you, too. That's an awfully nice feeling.

You go to the theatre. And, incidentally, every American actor and actress should go to the London theatre as a matter of duty and training. The standard of acting here is wonderfully high, for even the smaller roles all seem to be played by stars.

Well, you go to the theatre. And here again, it's nearly the same as going to the theatre at home. The theatres are very much like those in New York, for example—orchestra, balconies, intermissions. It's all cozy and familiar to you. But there are a few small differences.

To begin with, the curtain goes up at seven o'clock and comes down at little after nine. And orchestras, balconies and intermissions are called stalls, circles and intervals.

Again, I think it's harder to accept these little differences, than if the London shows were all played in Roman amphitheatres.

• • •

Then you go to the studio, which is a few miles out of London, and situated in some very pretty country. This is the studio of Associated British Pictures.

There are the cameraman, and the soundman, and the assistant director, and the lights, and the make-up, and the wardrobe mistress, and all those other things that are "home" to any waif from Hollywood.

There is the publicity man who is like any of the publicity men in Hollywood, only with a military moustache added. There is the canvas chair with "Jane Wyman" lettered on its back, and there is the shooting schedule that makes it necessary to get up before dawn in order to be before the cameras as Big Ben back in London, booms out eight-thirty.

There is, most important, to me at least, that smell of the motion picture studio—that combination of fresh-cut wood, plaster, and grease—paint. Adn you decide that that's just how film studios must smell the whole world over. Which, to a girl 6,000 miles from home, is definitely a good thing.

But there is a difference. And again, it's the fact that English and American studios are only nearly the same that's the important one.

One of the people I meet when I arrive at the studion is a London newspaperman who is there for an interview. He asks a lot of questions, and then comes to the inevitable one. Would I say there is a great difference between film production in England and film production in Hollywood?

I feel I can't say as I'd like to, that they're nearly the same. That's not what he wants to hear. He needs copy for his story, and the best kind of copy would be for me to sound off about technique, and spirit, and outlook and exchange of ideas, and other little pieces of pompous nonsense like that.

"There is a great difference," I begin. And I can see his poised pencil trembling with expectancy. "There is a great difference indeed. In Hollywood studios people have names Jimmy and Spike and Joe and Mary Lou. Here they have names like Nigel and Neville and Allister and Angela."

His pencil stops trembling, and starts back into his pocket. Perhaps I have lost a journalistic friend. But can I help it if they make pictures in England very much as they do at home? And that definitely is the biggest difference I can see between film-making in the two countries. They have different names, but they are the same people. Still it does give me a start whenever I hear a grip called Nigel.

SHORT MEALS FOR TALL TEMPERATURES

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
(By Associated Press)

One of the best of summer meals — good to eat and easy on the cook — is a well-flavored soup accompanied by an interesting sandwich and salad combination.

Most economical and hearty of soups for such a menu are those made from dry beans or peas. Like cereals, dry beans and peas contain proteins, although these proteins are not complete in themselves. You may increase the protein in the meal, both in quality and in quantity, by adding a small amount of meat some place in the menu, and by letting cheese, milk or eggs help out.

In the soup, sandwich and salad combination pictured here the bean chowder may have the addition of milk. The deviled ham sandwich is delicious with a cheese sauce. The molded vegetable salad with its crisp vegetables will be cool and refreshing. Here is a recipe for the salad.

MOLDED GREEN AND WHITE SLAW

Ingredients: 1 tablespoon (1 envelope) unflavored gelatin, ½ cup cold water, ¾ cup of water, ¼ cup sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ cup cider vinegar, ½ cup finely cut cabbage (chop in short lengths and pack loosely in measuring cup), 1 cup diced celery, ¼ cup finely diced cucumber (leave rind on and if seeds are large cut out centers of slices before dicing very finely), salad greens, mayonnaise or creamy salad dressing.

Method: Put cold water in a medium - sized mixing bowl. Sprinkle gelatin over it and allow to stand a few minutes so gelatin will absorb water and swell. Add the hot water, sugar and salt and stir until gelatin and sugar are completely dissolved. Add vinegar and stir. Chill in refrigerator until mixture is consistency of unbeaten egg whites. Add cabbage, celery and cucumber and mix well. Turn into 4 individual molds or custard cups and chill until firm. Unmold on salad greens and serve with mayonnaise or creamy salad dressing. Makes 4 servings.

SOUP, SALAD AND SANDWICH . . . Hot weather meal. . . .

If you want to try new and good - tasting sandwich and salad combinations here are six I can heartily recommend.

CHOPPED OR SLICED TONGUE SANDWICHES WITH WALDORF SALAD . . . Make the tongue sandwiches of rye or whole - wheat bread, the salad of diced apple and celery moistened with mayonnaise or creamy salad dressing and serve on salad greens.

EGG SANDWICHES WITH BEET AND ONION RING SALAD . . . Chop the eggs add mayonnaise of creamy salad dressing and salt and pepper to taste for sandwich filling; for salad lay sliced cooked beets and raw onion rings on lettuce and serve with tangy French dressing.

SALMON OR TUNA FISH SANDWICHES WITH MIXED VEGETABLES SALAD . . . Season the salmon or tuna fish (or use flaked cooked leftover white fish) with salt, pepper, onion salt and chopped parsley, use both cooked and crisp raw vegetables for the salad — such a combination as cooked or canned peas with diced celery and creamy salad dressing or cooked snap beans with coarsely shredded carrot and a savory French dressing.

CHICKEN SANDWICHES WITH WATERCRESS AND CUCUMBER SALAD . . . Chop the chicken if you like and add celery, hard - cooked egg and mayonnaise to it, or use it sliced with mayonnaise for the sandwiches; use thinly sliced cucumber with watercress and French dressing for the salad.

PEANUT BUTTER AND BACON SANDWICHES WITH CABBAGE, CARROT AND RAISIN SLAW . . . Add a little milk or thin cream to the peanut butter to moisten, then add the crumbled cooked crisp bacon and spread between slices of bread; grate the cabbage and carrot coarsely, add the raisins and bind with creamy salad dressing or mayonnaise.

AMERICAN CHEESE SANDWICHES WITH FRUIT SALAD . . . Plain sliced soft yellow cheese may be used for the sandwiches or it may be made into a delicious filling by grating it coarsely and mixing it with chopped nutmeats and mayonnaise; use two or three fresh fruits for the salad — melon, orange and cherries or seedless grapes are an excellent combination.

HOROSCOPE

For Friday, August 12

A strange upheaval or unforeseen calamity may prove startling and of far-reaching consequence, according to this day's planetary aspects. Unpredictable and revolutionary, with surprise and dynamic force, it will take more than customary shrewdness in order to "hold the fort" and reap surprising benefits from strange or curious factors.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a strange or revolutionary twist in the "wheel of fortune" which may be breath taking, sensational and of far-reaching influence on the life and its prospects. Fortunately such curious or quixotic adventure, or dramatic speeding up may find these undercurrents of the strange and elusive offset by dependable qualities of practical judgment, diligence, patience and far-vision to hold ground on a firm and workable basis for enduring security and worthwhile accomplishment.

The former Gertrude Stevens, Mrs. Wyss met her husband when he was serving with the U S Army at Townsville, Queensland and Swiss Gertrude plans to stay despite the fact that she says she fears being snowed in

Mrs. Wyss watched the field day operations which started off with 20 tractor-drawn wagons hauling spectators to the conservation displays.

Almost every kind of conservation demonstration was in operation on the Wyss farm

Gen. Smith Reveals Action

U. S. Alerted Bombers During Blockade

WASHINGTON —(INS)— The air force revealed yesterday that the United States placed two bomber groups "on the alert" when Russia launched the recent Berlin blockade.

Maj. Gen. Frederick Smith jr., air force command officer, told the House armed services committee that General Lucius Clay, then American military commander in Germany, "took a most serious view of the situation."

Smith's disclosure came during the House committee's probe of charges that "irregularities" figured in the purchase of the air force's giant B-36 bomber.

The committee was told that the strategic air command recommended only last year that the B-36 be scrapped as an offensive weapon.

Smith said Clay pointed out the possibility of incidences involving the use of armed force during the blockade.

As a result, a conference of air force and army officers was held with Secretary of the Army Royall at which it was "decided to place two air force bomber groups on the alert."

Gen. George Kenney, then commanding general of the strategic air command, urged last year that the air force use the six-engined plane as a tanker.

Kenney felt the nation should rely on refueled B-29's and B-50's (improved versions of the B-29) to deliver an atomic attack.

Smith outlined Kenney's position. He said:

"The offensive operating arm of the air force—General Kenney's strategic air command—thought little of the B-36 as a combat airplane and advocated refueling of medium - range bombers as a better method of delivering an inter-continental attack."

Gen. Lauris Norstad, deputy chief of staff for operations, recommended, however, that 34 of the 95 B-36's ordered from the Consolidated Vultee Aircraft corporation should be cancelled and 61 retained to equip one very heavy bombardment group.

Subsequently the B-36 made a thirty six hour flight of 8,062 miles, which Smith termed "an impressive demonstration of the range capabilities" of the giant bomber.

Saratoga Springs Still Ranks High As Illegal Gambling Spot

GLIMMERING GLAMMER—Saratoga Springs, once the sporting spa of the land during its one-month butterfly emergence from the dormant cocoon of small-town desuetude, is still interesting, though in its declension.

And this year, as usual (except when some politicians fear the righteous upstate rural rectitude) there is "action."

That means gambling above and beyond the call of legal parimutuel betting at the ancient track

Horse-rooms and crap games run until 7 o'clock, p m, then close, by agreement, and make way for the evening play at the casinos by the lake

Charlie (Lucky) Luciano's notorious Chicago Club "deals" in the center of the town, a short (and pretty) walk from the police station. It's operated by professionals from Albany and Schenectady. Profits, if any, are shared with Luciano, forwarded to him in Sicily, where he is officially in "exile."

There are no prodigal players such as made Saratoga history in the era of "Bet-a-Million" Gates, "Diamond Jim" Brady and sharpshooters like Arnold Rothstein, let alone the wild millionaires who came up in their private cars when John Morrissey invested the money he made with his fists to establish the health-water resort as one of the world's swiftest spots

Arrowhead, which Meyer Lansky and Joe Adonis ran in person a short while back, is closed—first time in its August history, I believe This was the luxury dining and nightclub rendezvous which got fabulous patronage at its tables, a Monte Carlo that could close 11 months and clean up for the year in 30 days

Lansky is in Italy, visiting "Lucky," and Adonis isn't even in sight at Saratoga Riley's Lake House has the only girl-show, with Minsky's line of hoofers and strippers

There is no gambling there. It opened late and failed to make advance "arrangements." That means "ice," which means protection.

The tight two - party political syndicate at times has demanded and gotten $1,000 a day, $10,000 in advance The character of white - chip bettors did not encourage any such a plunge now

Night harness-racing is cutting in on cafes and casinos too Most visitors grab their American - plan dinners in the hotels and dash for the sulky sport They come back with scant urge to go stepping

They are largely shirt sleeve hoi polloi, where the dinner jacket was once peremptory. Most of them have not ventured past the $2 window.

Most of the stately tree-shaded mansions of millionaires, where smart equipages glistened out front and high living roared within, have been sold to Skidmore College, now used as dormitories

President's Biblical Knowledge Saves Day For New U. S. Treasurer

WASHINGTON —(UP)—The pretty brunette was on the spot

She was new in Washington

She had an assignment to talk before a bunch of kids who were facets of the American Legion auxiliary The first thing our heroine thought of was a good "can do" story Best one that came to mind was one from the Bible The one about David, who gave the business to Goliath

She was reasonably sure she had her facts straight, but not quite So she called her old friend, Matt Connelly, at National 1414

"Matt," she said, "I've got it all straight but one little thing In David and Goliath was it King Paul or King Saul? I'm a little rusty on my Bible"

Matt, a pleasant, accommodating fellow, said hold the line

'Here's a fellow who can straighten you out," he said

'I think I can fix you up," said the voice which answered "Look it up in the first bok of Samuel, the 17th chapter, and around the 58th verse

"It says there

"And Saul said unto him, whose son are thou, young man? And David answered, I am the son of thy servant, Jesse the Beth le-Hemite'"

"Thank you very much," said our lady

Do you know to whom you are talking?" asked the voice at the other end of the line

Our lady was stopped

"This is you new boss — the President of the United States Harry Truman"

Mrs Georgia Neese Clark nearly fainted She had just taken over as treasurer of the U S, first woman ever to hold the job Matt Connelly, of course is one of the President's secretaries

'He fooled me with his voice," Mrs Clark told me at breakfast 'He's that kind of a guy He'll rub it in later'

* * *

Mr Truman and Mrs Clark, a slender well dressed lady who is not beyond doing her own washing in her small apartment here, are old firends

"Harry used to run a shirt and pants store," she said. "A small town guy I ran a bank in Richland, Kan., and had about 600 customers I also ran an elevator. Two of a kind"

The business of being thrown into the big kettle is something new to Mrs Clark

"I don't know which way to turn," she said "Every couple of minutes I am invited to a cocktail party I'm not used to that sort of thing In Kansas, we mostly are Saturday night folks Save up for a little fun on the week-end Here, everybody goes all the time"

Mrs Clark was so impressed with her new job that she bought the first 2800 one dollar bills she signed as the new U S Treasurer For souvenirs First time I ever interviewed a treasurer and got an autographed sample

3 Villages To Have Mayor Races

205 Candidates File In City and County

Three of the six Richland county villages will have mayoralty races on the basis of petitions filed with the county election board before yesterday's deadline

A total of 205 candidates filed for approximately 170 school board, village and township offices to be filled at the November election.

There are two-way races for Mayors in Bellville, Plymouth and Lexington, while only one candidate filed for mayor in Butler, Shiloh and Lucas

Opposing each other in Bellville will be Mayor Charles Palm, who is serving his second term, and Former Mayor Edgar R Stahl

The fight in Plymouth is between Former Mayor J A Lasch and Mayor Carroll A Robinson The Lexington candidates are B R. Castor and Claud M Gore

In Butler Mayor Dory R Swank has filed for re-election, in Lucas Zane E Moore is the only candidate and in Shiloh, Glenn Swanger is the candidate

Election board officials said there always is the possibility that write-in candidates will get sufficient votes to make things interesting in villages and rural communities where only one candidate has filed for an office.

Board of election workers today were checking the names of signers of the candidates' petitions to determine if the office-seekers have enough valid signatures

FIND SUBSTITUTE—

Mansfielders are solving the problem of finding a cool thirst quencher at a reasonable price by substituting limes for lemons in the old summer favorite, lemonade Lemons, at six cents or more each, are a little too expensive for that tall, cool drink which helps cambot the excessive heat, a lot of shoppers think However limes may be purchased for only about three cents each, a considerable savings At that price, they not only supply the makings of a refreshing hot-weather drink but help keep the budget within reasonable bounds

Shelby Executive Uses Fists, Pays $10

A Shelby insurance company executive, who admitted being past 70 years old, was fined $10 and costs yesterday in municipal court for attacking a 37-year-old man with his fists

Louis A Dennis, chairman of the board of the Shelby Mutual Insurance company admitted he 'threw one blow' at William Snay, 37, of 64 Auburn street Shelby, but he said he thought he missed him

However, Snay testified he had made two visits to the Shelby hospital to have his jaw x-rayed where one of Dennis's blows landed Snay said he was struck several times

According to court testimony Dennis was driving his automobile in the middle of Wentz avenue in Shelby and Snay was forced to pull off the road to get around after he got no response from blowing his horn.

As Snay's automobile passed Dennis's car, words were exchanged

The insurance executive claimed Snay used profanity but the other man claimed he only said "Do you think you own it" meaning, he said, the road

However, Dennis later approached the younger man at the Shelby swimming pool and after an exchange of words the blows were struck, Snay said.

Witnesses and Snay said the younger man made no attempt to fight back and pleaded with Dennis to 'stop, you're too old for me to fight'

LOREN TIBBALS, the Ashland sport scribbler, has dwelt at length about the possible results of Gorman-Rupp's protest of the eligibility of Olli Barker, Ashland Indian pitcher. . . . After the protest was disallowed here's part of what Tibbals had to say:

"We believe district softball has been dealt a tragic blow.

"We believe it was a protest made in haste, with very little thought of future relations.

"We believe the Ashland Indians, to the last man, will decline to play the Mansfield team during the 1950 pre-tournament season.

"We believe the Indians, likewise, will decline to join in the formation of any inter-city soft ball league in which Gorman-Rupp is proposed as a member.

"Unless we're a million miles from the truth, the protest has ended a rivalry which once seemed to be budding into as keen and friendly relationship as the Ashland - Mansfield Senior High basketball rivalry."

'Ez' Takes Challenger In Seventh

By JACK CUDDY

NEW YORK —(UP)— Ezzard Charles, having battered Gus Lesnevich into apparent retirement, was ready today to defend his claims to the world heavyweight championship against Lee Savold or "any other man in the world."

Charles—a slender, coal-black Negro from Cincinnati—won a technical knockout over veteran Lesnevich of Cliffside Park, N. J., at the end of the seventh round last night before a sweltering and disappointing crowd of 16,630 in Yankee stadium.

Lesnevich, former world light heavyweight champion, could scarcely see out of either eye, and he was bleeding from gashes above and below his right eye and from a gash on his left cheek at the end of the seventh session.

Trainer Freddie Fierro turned to Referee Ruby Goldstein as Lesnevich sat on his stool in the corner, and told Goldstein that 34-year-old Gus was unable to continue. The fight ended in the seventh round, according to New York rules, for the bell had not rung for the eighth.

Charles, who is recognized as world champion by the National Boxing association, was making his first defense of the title he had won by outpointing ancient Jersey Joe Walcott at Chicago June 22. Ezzard risked the title more quickly than other previous champion making a first defense.

In the dressing room, Lesnevich—in his 15th year as a professional fighter—announced his retirement from the ring. Later, he reconsidered and said he would need a couple of days to think about retiring. However, Manager Joe Vella said Gus was retired as far as he was concerned. And members of the challenger's family agreed that Gus never would fight again.

RESULT HELPS LITTLE

Charles displayed much more savagery and aggressiveness last night than he did at Chicago, where he fought Walcott for NBA recognition as successor to the retired Joe Louis. However, the match last night was so lopsided that he actually added little to his prestige.

The New York Boxing Commission, which is not a member of the NBA does not recognize Charles as champion. And he must beat Savold or some other outstanding contender before he can gain recognition from the New York commission and from the British Board of Boxing Control.

Savold still is matched tentatively to fight Bruce Woodcock of England at London in October; however, Woodcock has been trying to withdraw from that match. If the match is called off, Savold may meet Charles at Madison Square Garden in October or November.

There were no knockdowns in last night's bout, which was staged in 91-degree heat in the humid Yankee ball park. However, Lesnevich was rocked in nearly every round by the 28-year-old champion; and he was staggered in the third, fourth and seventh rounds.

Game Gus tried to make a fight of it, despite his aged legs, and he landed some solid head smashes in nearly every session except the seventh; but the stocky, brown-haired, battle-scarred veteran was unable to sustain an attack in any session except the sixth, the only round which he won.

RUNS OUT OF FUEL

He slowed up Ezzard then with left hooks and straight rights to the head, and actually staggered him with one smashing right to the chin. But Charles came out blazing for the seventh, and Gus had no stamina left with which to fuel a defense.

Charles boxed more skillfully last night than he did against Walcott. He was particularly adroit in slipping Lesnevich's left jabs and straight rights. And he appeared to hit harder than at Chicago.

The International Boxing club, promoting its first New York fight since buying out Mike Jacobs, must have dropped a bundle on the show which grossed only $75,832 plus $17,500 for radio rights.

Charles and Lesnevich each received $17,499 as their share of the gate.

Biggest Mansfield Tennis Meet Opens On Saturday

Mansfield's biggest tennis tournament will get underway Saturday and Sunday on the three clay courts at the Woodland club.

Today's final entry brought the total to 89 players who will compete in the annual News-Journal net joust. Competition will be staged in six divisions with the boy's singles drawing the biggest entry.

With a total of 76 juniors, including 27 in the boys' singles, tennis interest in Mansfield appears definitely on the upswing.

Since the junior division is flourishing, two more trophies have been added to the prize list. Yuncker's Sporting Goods has donated runner-up trophies in each of the junior divisions. The News-Journal will award cups to the victors in all divisions.

Busiest netters will probably be John Crouse and Billy Reale, the Senior high aces. Both will play in men's singles and boys' singles and will team up in the men's doubles. They participated in the state high school tennis meet as a doubles team after qualifying in district competition.

Men's singles trailed the boys' list with 27 entries. Other totals follow: Men's doubles, 19; women's singles, 18; women's doubles, 6.

Late entries include:

Men's singles—Bill Oberlin, Jim Shelley, Jim Gandort Lowell McCoy, Bob Keeker.

Men's doubles — Oberlin - Sid Gregory, Fritz Haring-Lou Mollica, Shelley-Gandort, Frank Plaut -Jim Geiger.

Women's singles—Mary Thodosoff, Mrs. Connie Taylor, Naomi Carr, Isabel Long, Lois Quinlan.

Women's doubles—Taylor-Carr, Long-Quinlan.

Boys' singles — Jack Pierce, Fred Pryor, Plaut, Allen Meilinger, Hugh Crouse.

Blanchard Grid Deal Called Off

WASHINGTON — (INS) —The air force said today that Felix A. "Doc" Blanchard, former army star, cannot play professional football on his week ends off.

Blanchard, now a first lieutenant in the air force, wished to play with the Charlotte (N. C.) Clippers.

The air force ruled, however, the service regulations prohibit participation by an officer in any professional sport.

Tricky Split-T Offense Set For All-Stars

CHICAGO — — The tricky split-t formation, which is another way of saying Bud Wilkinson, will be the principal weapon of the college all-stars when they take on the Philadelphia Eagles tomorrow night.

Wilkinson, head coach of the all-stars, used the split-t in piloting his University of Oklahoma team to a big seven conference football championship and a Sugar Bowl victory over North Carolina last season.

He has made it known that if the formation can befuddle other college teams it ought to be worth a good try against the national football league champions.

The 16th annual collegiate-pro game, for charity, is expected to attract 90,000 customers to the mamoth Soldier field on Chicago's lake front.

The all-star lineup was still a secret as the team went through its final practice session today.

Coach Greasy Neale brought his Eagles to Chicago today from their month-long training session at Grand Rapids, Minn. He scheduled a secret workout under the lights at Soldier field tonight.

Request Denied

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. — (UP) — Bobby Locke, South African golf ace under suspension by the U. S. Professional Golfers association has been denied his request to play in the $15,000 PGA sponsored open tournament here next week.

Clement Hops To Chicago 11

RIPON, Wis. — (UP) — John Clement, left halfback with the Pittsburgh steelers of the national league last season, said today that he will sign with the Chicago Hornets of the All-American league.

Clement has been working out with the Hornets for a week and a half at their training-camp here.

The one -time Southern Methodist player said he didn't want to reveal his reasons for the switch until the news is officially released from the Hornet's Chicago headquarters.

Shelly Swank Takes Fifth Win In Row Over Taverns

Penn-Auto Sporting Goods annexed its second successive city baseball championship yesterday at Blue Goose field by a 6-2 victory over T. & E. Tavern.

It was another pitching triumph for Shelly Swank who has won five straight games since becoming the Autos top pitcher several weeks ago. Penn has won its last six starts and 13 out of 20 games for the season.

Swank allowed only five hits, all singles, and struck out ten T. & E. batters in eight innings. The game was called by darkness in the last of the eighth.

Penn Auto won the city title last year under the banner of the Mansfield Grays and then went on to cop the state semi-pro title. It did not defend the latter crown this year. T. & E. leads the second half race of the Richland County league.

Only extra base hit of the game was Jack Hammett's double which drove in Dick Poth and Wilbur Wade who had walked in the second inning. Hammett drove in another run with a single in the fifth.

Penn will travel to Leesville Sunday for a 2:30 p. m. and will go to Ontario next Wednesday. Business Manager John Heckert also is looking for a road game for Sunday, August 21.

Gorman-Rupp Reaches District Semi-Finals

VFW Softball Team Ousts Jewelers, 2-0

By CHARLEY STINE

Mansfield's domination of the district softball tournament came within one step of completion last night as defending champion Gorman-Rupp eliminated the dark-horse Jeromesville team, 7-1.

The elimination of Jeromesville left only one outsider among the six still in the tournament. Marion Smitty's All-Stars are the only remaining "foreigners" and they may bow out in tonight's 8 o'clock game against Sons of Herman. The 9:30 contest will pair Farm Tools with the new dark-horse, Westinghouse.

If Smitty's loses tonight it will be an all-Mansfield semi-final Saturday—Gorman-Rupp against Veterans of Foreign Wars and Sons of Herman against either Farm Tools or Westinghouse.

VFW advanced to the semi-finals in last night's second game as it got another brilliant pitching job out of Ronnie Hunt. The Veterans ousted another Mansfield nine, Todd's Jewelry, 2-0.

The slender Hunt hurled his third tournament victory and his second straight shutout. He fanned ten Todd's batters which ran his tournament total to 34.

Todd's got more than one man on base only in the first and fourth innings. Attempt to score from first on a double by Lou Snavely in the first inning ended in an out, and in the fourth Joe Smollen who walked and Sheeks who singled were both left on.

LESCH IS STAR

VFW got its runs in the first and fourth with Joe Lesch driving in the first and scoring the second. He singled home Kemper from second base in the first and doubled in the second to score on an infield out after Dinger had singled him to third.

In the other game, Gorman-Rupp appeared for a time to be headed for the fate of the Ashland Indians. The game was scoreless for four innings, but in the fifth Jeromesville blew and Gorman-Rupp began hitting the ball hard to sew up the game.

George Curry led off the inning with a single and Bud McKee's bunt was played into a single by first-baseman Kyler. A passed ball moved everybody up and Jeromesville lost its golden opportunity a moment later.

Bob Regula grounded to second base, and was thrown out. Bud McKee went to third on the out but George Curry held the base and Jeromesville had both trapped in a run-down. At least a half-dozen Jeromesville men got in on the fun, with the right-fielder, Stan Obrecht finally dropping the ball to let McKee go back to second. Al Baki singled in one run, and leftfielder Kenny Wise fumbled the ball momentarily to let the second one score.

Gorman-Rupp was off to the races then as Ted Bush singled to left. Wise played this one into a "home run" and the fifth tally of the inning scored a moment later on Pete Campbell's double, a passed ball and a long fly.

No games will be played tomorrow night.

The quartet — probably the best team in the city — was composed of oe Mayer, 35; im Musille, 37; Grant Hannawalt, 35; and Ted Etzel, 34.

Other par figures in the league were a pair of 36's fired by Ray Malaska and Cid Mathias.

Baltimore Colts Smash Buffalo 11

WILMINGTON, Del. — (AP) — The Balitimore colts romped to a 28 - 12 win over the Buffalo Bills in an all - America conference exhibition football game at Wilmington park last night.

Suits Placed

NEW YORK — (AP) — The $2,500,000 anti - trust suits of Max Lanier and Fred Martin against organized baseball have been placed at the foot of the November calendar by Gederal Judge William Bonby.

BOY ACE — Having won 20 straight high school games in the last two seasons, Arnold Portocarrero, 18, has been signed by the Philadelphia Athletics and will report to their training camp next spring. The 195-pound, 6 foot, 3 inch pitcher averaged 12 strikeouts per game pitching for George Washington high, New York.

Bauer Touted As Successor To Joltin' Joe

NEW YORK — (UP) — Bruiser-build Hank Bauer tday bid fair to become Joe DiMaggio's successor when the time finally comes for DiMag to quit the New York Yankees.

Such has been the plan of Yankee general manager George Weiss for the past three years, but only now is the six-feet-two Hank living up to the job he hopes to inherit. For one thing, he showed a definite deficiency in hitting curve ball pitchers when he first came up to the majors late last season.

But now the target-throwing, ball-bashing outfielder is on the glory road. He first proved his true value early this season when he took over Tommy Henrich's spot in the outfield, allowing the old reliable to shift to first base where he was sorely needed.

And now hammering Hank is stepping into the clutch with his long hits at a time when the Yankees are on the spot in the torrid American league race.

He is hitting .285 and rising steadily.

Hank got two homers against Ellis Kinder in the first game of the current Yankee-Red Sox series Tuesday; that still wasn't enough to win the game. But yesterday his soaring single against the 315 - feet left field fence at Fenway park brought in two runs for a 3 to 2 Yankee triumph over the Sox.

7 Americans In Net Meet

NEWPORT, R. I. — (AP) — Seven top seeded Americans and the only surviving foreign entrant will compete today in the quarterfinals of the Casino's 30th invitation grass courts tennis tournament.

The quarter final bracket in the singles is composed of: Richard (Pancho) Gonzales, who is top seeded; the second seeded Gardnar Mulloy of Coral Gables, Fla.; third ranked Victor Seixas of Philadelphia; fourth spotted Earl Cochell of San Francisco, who is sixth ranked; Art Larsen of San Francisco, seventh seeded; and Felicisimo Ampon of the Philippines, second seeded and only remaining foreign entrant.

Frankie Albert Back On Warpath

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — The San Francisco 49ers, led by the little general, Frankie Albert, rolled over the Los Angeles Dons 28-7 tonight in an all America conference football exhibition watched by 81,272 fans in Memorial coliseum.

Albert directed two scoring drives of 65 and 66 yards in the first half and hooked up with Jim Cason on a 62 - yard pass play for another touchdown in the fourth quarter.

Crouse Advances To Tennis Finals

Four matches in the Woodland club tennis tournament were played yesterday.

John Crouse advanced to the finals in the junior singles by eliminating Fritz Haring, 6-2, 6-4. Crouse plays Lou Mollica for the crown tomorrow at 2 p. m.

In women's singles, Lynn Ross defeated Mrs. Wilmot Peirce, 6-2, 6-3. Two girls' matches were played. Nancy Ward won over Fran Draffan, 6-0, 6-1, and Hope Moore defeated Linda Bloor, 6-1, 6-2.

Kokos Raps Homer To Beat Tribe

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Manager Lou Boudreau put Joe Gordon back on second and moved Johnny Berardino to third in the Cleveland Indians' lineup for tonight's game with the Chicago White Sox.

"We've got to go the rest of the way with the best we have," Boudreau said after the Tribe lost 5-4 last night to the cellar-dwelling St. Louis Browns.

Berardino's sharp fielding, and his two doubles and a single in seven at-bats during the two games Cleveland split with St. Louis won him the right to displace Ken Keltner at third now that Second Baseman Gordon's rest period has been cut short.

Mike Garcia, rookie right-hand speedballer, will hurl for the Indians tonight in the first of four games with sixth-place Chicago. Mike will be trying to ring up victory No. 10.

Of the world champions' pitching staff—so highly regarded by experts last April—about the only one with a chance to be a 20-game winner is Bob Lemon, last night's loser. Lemon has a 13-8 record and has won four and lost four in the last month. He probably will start 10 or 12 of the Tribe's remaining 49 games.

A home run pitch to Brownie Outfielder Dick Kokos beat Lemon last night. With one out in the ninth, Kokos dug in on a 3-1 pitch and smashed it into the right field stands for his 19th round-tripper of the season.

LOSE FULL GAME

The loss cut the Indians a full game in their pursuit of the top-dog New York Yankees whom they now trail by 5½ games.

The Brownies, who had lost eight and tied one of their last nine contests, were rewarded with an extra hour until curfew by grateful Manager Zack Taylor, who commented:

"It's about time we won one."

Cleveland scored in only one inning—the fifth. Berardino led off that rally with a double and came home on Bob Kennedy's single. Lemon then socked his seventh homer of the year, and Larry Doby ended the scoring with his 15th above the 380-foot sign in right-centerfield.

Lemon now is only two shy of the major league homer record for pitchers, set by Cleveland's Wes Ferrell in 1931.

Tom Ferrick, who came into the game in the sixth after Cliff Fannin was removed for a pinch-hitter, rationed three safeties to the Tribe the rest of the way and got credit for the victory.

The Browns turned four first-inning singles and a walk into three runs and added another in the second inning on Bob Dillinger's triple and a foul pop by Kokos. The speedy Dillinger beat Keltner's throw to the plate after the catch.

Miss Tilly Wins Hambletonian

GOSHEN, N. Y. — (INS) — A bouncing bay filly named Miss Tilly sent them thumbing through the winter book today to explain her surprising straight heat victory in the Hambletonian stakes.

The three-year-old miss from the C. W. Phellis stable of Greenwich, Conn., swept to the Grand Circuit's record three - year - old trotting championship yesterday at Goshen's Good Time track in times of 2:03 and 2:01 2-5.

Red Sox Top League In All Statistics; Yanks Have Joe Page and Lead Loop

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

By all the laws of baseball statistics, the Boston Red Sox, not the New York Yankees, should be leading the American league today.

The Red Sox own the circuit's top batter in Ted Williams. They possess the league's "winningest" pitcher in Mel Parnell. In Williams and Vern Stephens, they have the one, two leaders in home runs and runs batted in.

In addition, they lead in team batting and slugging, and rank third compared to the Yankees' seven in team fielding. Shouldn't that rate them the No. 1 spot in the standings?

Yet the Red Sox find themselves in third place, six and a half games behind the front-running Yankees, who also own a five and a half game bulge over the runner-up Cleveland Indians.

There is only one answer for this strange, and for Boston, sad state of affairs. The Red Sox don't have Joe Page and the Yankees do. It's as simple as that.

Take yesterday's important game between the Yankees and Red Sox in Boston.

A three-run rally in the top of the seventh, highlighted by Hank Bauer's two-run single, had given the Yankees a 3-1 edge over Joe Dobson. Stephens clipped Yankee starter Ed Lopat for his 28th homer in the last half of the inning to make it 3-2. After Lopat survived a shaky seventh inning, Stengel excused Lefty for the day and summoned his trouble-shooter —Page.

ONE LITTLE SINGLE

Joe retired the dangerous Sox with only one harmless infield single in the eighth and ninth to preserve the Yankee victory. It marked his 36th relief appearance and the 20th game he's saved. Page's record is 10-4, but he's saved seven others for another Yankee starter, Allie Reynolds, and two for Tommy Byrne. Page has been in only 11 losing Yankee games.

The Indians lost ground when they were edged out, 5-4, by the lowly St. Louis Browns in a night affair. Dick Kokos, former Indian chattel, homered in the ninth off Bob Lemon to snap a 4-4 tie.

Washington's Senators and Chicago's White Sox pulled a couple of upsets. The Nats shaded the Philadelphia Athletics, 8-7, and the Chisox topped the Detroit Tigers, 6-3, 8, 10 innings.

The Brooklyn Dodgers and St. Louis Cards remained deadlocked for the first place in the National league for the fourth straight day. The Brooks needed a ninth-inning home run by Jackie Robinson with one on to beat Philadelphia's Phils, 7-5. The Cards, behind the six-hit pitching of Lefty Al Brazle, took an easy 8-0 decision from Cincinnati.

Southpaw Warren Spahn turned in his 14th victory as he pitched the Boston Braves to a 4-1 triumph over the New York Giants and Doyle Lade pitched the Chicago Cubs to a 2-0 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Only One Game Played In City Softball Loops

Western and Southern Insurance edged the News-Journal, 3-2, in the only softball game played in city competition yesterday.

The game, a Recreation league tilt, was scheduled as the first of a double-header. The second game, between Western and Southern and Westinghouse Clerks was called at the end of four-and-one-half innings by darkness with the score standing 8-8.

An International league game between Westinghouse Engineers and American Legion was postponed.

2nd Best Ball Meet Slated This Sunday

All records for paticipation by Mansfield golfers will be broken again Sunday in the Amateur-Amateur best-ball tournament of the City Athletic Commission.

A record was set in the first best-ball four weeks ago when 134 persons competed but Sunday's list will be far above that figure.

Deadline for mailing entries was midnight last night. At noon today entries from 122 had been received. Later mails were expected to bring in more in time for the pairings to be made at the meeting of the commission's golf committee tonight. The 122 golfers will play in 61 best-ball teams.

The increase in entries apparently came from the Class B and C ranks as a large number of names not familiar to the top golfers are on the list.

Only one team will be back to defend its title won four weeks ago. Jack Berlo and J. R. Coe, who won the Class B crown at Possum Run, will be teamed together again Sunday at Coolridge as the classes switch courses.

In Class AA, the winners and runnersup exchanged partners. Pete Zeides, runnerup last time with Al Hager will play this time with Jim Musille. Meanwhile, Pete Thoma, who won with Musille, has teamed with Al Hager to form the top - heavy favorite combination.

Other entries are:

Don Miller and Walt Betton, H. L. Groves and C. B. Windsor, Steve Stirtzinger and Frank Jochn, Matz Fisher and Ed Bionston, John T. Speck and Joe Heller, Jake Gaubatz and Dick Gaubatz, Wilburn Linn and Everett Croskey, Hugh Everly and Joe Nixon, Henry Miller and Clair Bell, George Zimmerman and Gene Lichtle, Fred Conrad and Gene Conrad, Pete Stall and Orlie Grable, Richard Jacobs and Don Watson, Fred Hallabrin and Robert Hoffman, Mike Hallabrin and Herman Schaefer, Ned Simon and Ben Kremer, Joe DeYarmon and Charles Young, Bob German and Paul DeVore, John Sisco and Ralph Stafford, John Albers and Ben Boals, Earl O. From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Specs And I See Eye To Eye

Asked Specs Allen to go hunting last week. Known him all my life, so I wasn't surprised when he showed up with no gun. Specs doesn't like to kill anything.

Couldn't ask for a better hunting companion, though. We tramp around the woods, and whenever the dogs flush a bird, I blaze away while Specs just watches.

Told him once I was surprised he went along . . . feeling the way he does about shooting anything. "Well, Joe," he says, "you do what you think is right and I'll stick to what I think is right. I've no call to dislike you for not seeing everything the way I see it."

From where I sit, open-mindedness is a wonderful quality. There are plenty of things Specs admires that I don't care for. Like his fondness for buttermilk. I'd rather have a glass of beer anytime . . . but Specs Allen and I don't let little differences get in the way of something big like friendship.

A&P

EVERY DAY
A&P's Policy Is To Make EVERY PRICE
In Every Department
A LOW PRICE

By keeping operating expenses and profits as low as possible, A&P keeps every price just as low as possible . . . all through the week and all through the store. That means savings for you no matter what day you shop at your thrifty A&P . . . savings that add up to a tidy sum in no time at all. Why not start getting your share today?

Customers' Corner

Have you ever noticed the date stamped on each carton of A&P eggs? It is put there to protect the quality and freshness of this perishable item.

An egg that is Grade A when it is inspected and packed could become Grade B or C by the time you buy it if it has been improperly or slowly handled.

We don't want that ever to happen to an A&P egg. That is why we put the date when the eggs are graded on each carton. Eggs not sold within a few days of that date are removed from sale even though they are still of good quality.

If you should ever find that any of our egg cartons bear old dates or that any eggs fail to live up to our high quality standards, please tell us about it. Please write:
